In the following steps, you will learn how to use this tool. 1. Start a new document Open an image using the File > New command, or click the File > New command again to open the dialog box that comes up. 2. Select the Clone Stamp tool Click on the Clone

Stamp tool and point it at the image you want to edit. The tool automatically places it into its correct place in the Tools panel. To open the options box, click the Options box. 3. Select the Clone Source Click on the Radial Marquee Tool. It will be the tool in the bottom-left of the Options box. The radius will be set to 10 pixels. Select the Spot Healing brush. This brush contains three parameters: Amount, Size, and Tolerance (Frame). The amount controls how much of the original to copy, the size is the radius, and the tolerance is how many pixels away from the source that it's allowed to copy. Set the amount to 100%, size to 10 pixels, and tolerance to 0 pixels. 4. Click OK to close the Options box. Click anywhere in the image to make the source circular. The tool will place the cloning center to the pixel you clicked. 5. Select the Brush Click and drag the Brush tool to the part of the image you want to apply the effect. 6. Press V to activate the brush. Click anywhere in the image to see the effect. 7. Press the Shift key to clear the Brush tool. 8. Select the clone tool. Click and drag the clone tool to anywhere in the image. The original area will be blue and the clone area will be white.

9. Press the space key to release the clone tool.

10. Press the Alt key to activate the Live Paint bucket. This brush allows you to fill any object in the image with a color. Here you will use it to fill a white shape with red.

11. Select the Live Paint bucket tool Click on the Red paint bucket tool and use it to fill white areas of the image with red. 12. Press the Spacebar key to release the Paint Bucket tool. 13. Select the Fill Brush tool Click on the black brush to paint the object with black. 14. Click anywhere in the image to make the paint easier to see. 15. Press the W key to deselect. You can click on a selection to deselect it or

Q: Formula to subtract day from multiple instances of date I need to create a Formula that subtracts one date from a field containing more than one date (everyday) in each row. Each date field in the same row is formatted like "04/07/2017". The first date in a row should be subtracted from the other dates in the same row and the result should be added to the first date in the next row. The result should be something like "03/07/2017", "02/07/2017" and so on.. I tried using this formula:

= IFERROR(IF(DAY(A1)=

`DAY(A1)+1,(A1-DATE(YEAR(A1),MONTH(A1),DATE(YEAR(A1),MONTH(A1),DAY(A1)+1))),"`) But the result is not consistent. How can I achieve that?

A: Perhaps you may be looking for something like this: `=INDEX(E1:E1,MATCH(EOMONTH(A2,0,0)-A2,C1:C1,0))` The formula assumes that the dates in A2:A will be in the same date format. The input and output range is also assumed to be in the same order. The MATCH function returns the row number of the matching date as shown in the formula. The INDEX function is used to return the date in the cells F2:I2 to the right of the formula. Here is an example of the result: EDIT: As an added feature, an overall offset can be added in the example above by adding: =INDEX($E$1:E1,MATCH(EOMONTH(A2,0,0)+E$1:E1,$C$1:C1,0)) or, if possible: =INDEX($E$1:E1,MATCH(EOMONTH(A2,0,0)+E$1:E1,$C$1:C1,0)+1) 6 Days In Jerusalem: What To Know Before You Go 6
